A Strategy to Combat Eye Strain: High Contrast

Most people with normal vision don't consider using "high contrast" when viewing a computer screen, but you might give one of the high contrast options a try. Follow this strand: Settings (Windows + I) > Ease of Access > High Contrast > Theme > try one of the four available options > Apply.