ALWAYS SHOW THE MENU BAR IN ALL WINDOWS

A feature that Microsoft left out of Windows 7 that was in previous versions of Windows going way back to Windows 95 was the Menu Bar with "File, Edit, View, etc." options that appeared at the top of each window. Apparently, the Microsoft engineers didn't think we would want to use it. They were wrong!

Fortunately, there are a couple ways to recover the Menu Bar in all your windows and make it stick.

Just click Start, and in the Search Box type Folder Options and then press <Enter>. Click on the View tab if it's not already selected, and under the Advanced Settings area, check "Always show Menus". Click OK.

Another easier option is to open Windows Explorer (Windows Key + E key), then click Organize, hover over Layout, and then click Menu bar. This action will apply to all windows in Win10.

You only have to make this adjustment once. From that point on, the change will "stick."
